Charitable Giving: Making a Meaningful Impact Through Generosity

■ Presented by Cade Tucker

Charitable giving offers an opportunity to support the causes and communities that matter most while creating a lasting legacy of generosity. In Hawaii, where the spirit of aloha and caring for others is deeply rooted in our culture, charitable giving can be a meaningful way to make a difference during your lifetime and beyond. Whether through direct donations, donor-advised funds, or charitable trusts, a thoughtful giving strategy can help align your philanthropic goals with your overall financial and estate plans. With careful planning, you can support the organizations you care about, potentially realize tax benefits, and leave a lasting impact on your community and future generations.

Incorporating charitable goals into your long-term financial plans can be beneficial on multiple fronts. Not only does sticking to a financial plan help build wealth and pursue financial goals, but it can also put you in a better position to give with greater impact to the causes you care about. Plus, having a thoughtful strategy for your philanthropy can help you maximize your giving and the associated tax savings.

Here are two common vehicles to help incorporate charitable giving into your financial plan.

1. Donor-advised funds: One of the most common ways my clients choose to give is through a donor-advised fund, which is a private fund administered by a third party on behalf of donors for the purpose of managing charitable donations. You can open this type of account with an irrevocable, tax-deductible contribution of appreciated securities, real estate, or cash, and the fund sponsor will handle the administrative details. Once the funds are deposited into your account, you can choose to invest them, which can potentially increase your charitable impact. You also have the freedom to choose the charities that will benefit from your donation—as long as they are 501(c)(3) organizations—and can recommend grants to those charities over time. (You can confirm whether an organization is a qualified charity using the IRS database at apps.irs.gov/app/eos.)

Donating appreciated assets directly to a donor-advised fund can be especially advantageous from a tax perspective. Doing so allows you to avoid paying capital gains tax on the appreciation, as well as receive a charitable deduction for the full fair market value of the appreciated asset at the time of the donation, subject to IRS limits. (The charitable deduction for non-cash assets is limited to 30% of your adjusted gross income.) Giving to a donor-advised fund also allows you to make the donation in the current tax year while directing grants to charities over time. This can potentially provide immediate tax benefits while offering flexibility in your charitable giving.

2. Charitable trusts: For those interested in prioritizing philanthropy while also adding another source of retirement income, a charitable remainder trust (CRT) may be an appropriate choice. A CRT is an irrevocable trust—meaning it cannot be altered once you create it—that you set up and fund with cash, investments, or property. The trust provides you and potentially your spouse with annual income distributions for your lifetime, or a period of time up to 20 years. After your passing (or at the end of the term), the charity of your choice receives any remaining assets owned by the trust.

CRTs are just one of many types of charitable trusts that may suit your needs. However, the rules governing them can be complex and they can be expensive to set up and maintain, so it's important to consult your estate-planning attorney to ensure the trust is structured properly in order to realize the benefits you are looking for.

Ultimately, there are a variety of vehicles that can help facilitate your giving goals. But remember: If you make charitable donations with a holistic plan in place, you will likely have a greater impact on the organizations you support and your own financial picture.

Charitable giving is about more than financial contributions—it's about creating a lasting impact on the people, organizations, and causes that reflect your values. By incorporating charitable strategies into your overall financial and estate plan, you can support your community, strengthen your legacy, and potentially enhance the tax efficiency of your wealth transfer goals. Whether your passion lies in supporting local Hawaii nonprofits, educational initiatives, healthcare organizations, or cultural programs, thoughtful planning can help ensure your generosity makes a meaningful difference for years to come. Ultimately, charitable giving allows you to share the spirit of aloha while leaving a legacy that extends far beyond your lifetime.

Market fluctuations may cause the value of investment fund shares held in a donor-advised fund account to be worth more or less than the value of the original contribution to the funds.

A donor's ability to claim itemized deductions is subject to a variety of limitations depending on the donor's specific tax situation. Consult your tax advisor for more information.

The Association is seeking diligent and enthusiastic candidates to fill the vacancies on the MTA Board of Directors. For this upcoming fiscal year beginning April 1, 2027, there are three director positions open, each for a 3-year term. The election will be held through mail-in and online ballots. Prospective candidates should be oriented toward serving the interests of the Mililani Town Association and have the time and energy to attend monthly board meetings. To be eligible to serve on the MTA Board of Directors, current law requires all candidates to be members of the Association (owners) and no more than one owner from the same unit may serve on the Board at the same time.

CANDIDATES WANTED FOR MTA BOARD

Members interested in running for one of the three positions may download the application by visiting the MTA website at www.mililanitown.org or pick up a Board of Directors Candidate Application at MTA's Administrative Office, 95-303 Kaloapau Street, during normal business hours, Monday-Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (except holidays). If you prefer to have an application mailed to you, please call (808) 440-2625.

The deadline for filing candidate applications is 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, December 8, 2026. Results of the election will be announced at the 59th Annual Meeting to be held on Wednesday, March 10, 2027, at 7:00 p.m. at Recreation Center 3.

If any resident knows a homeowner who would make a good director, please encourage that individual to file an application. If you have any questions about the candidate process or wish to submit the name of a prospective candidate, please contact Sheryl Kamikawa at (808) 440-2625.

MONTHLY COVENANTS INSPECTIONS

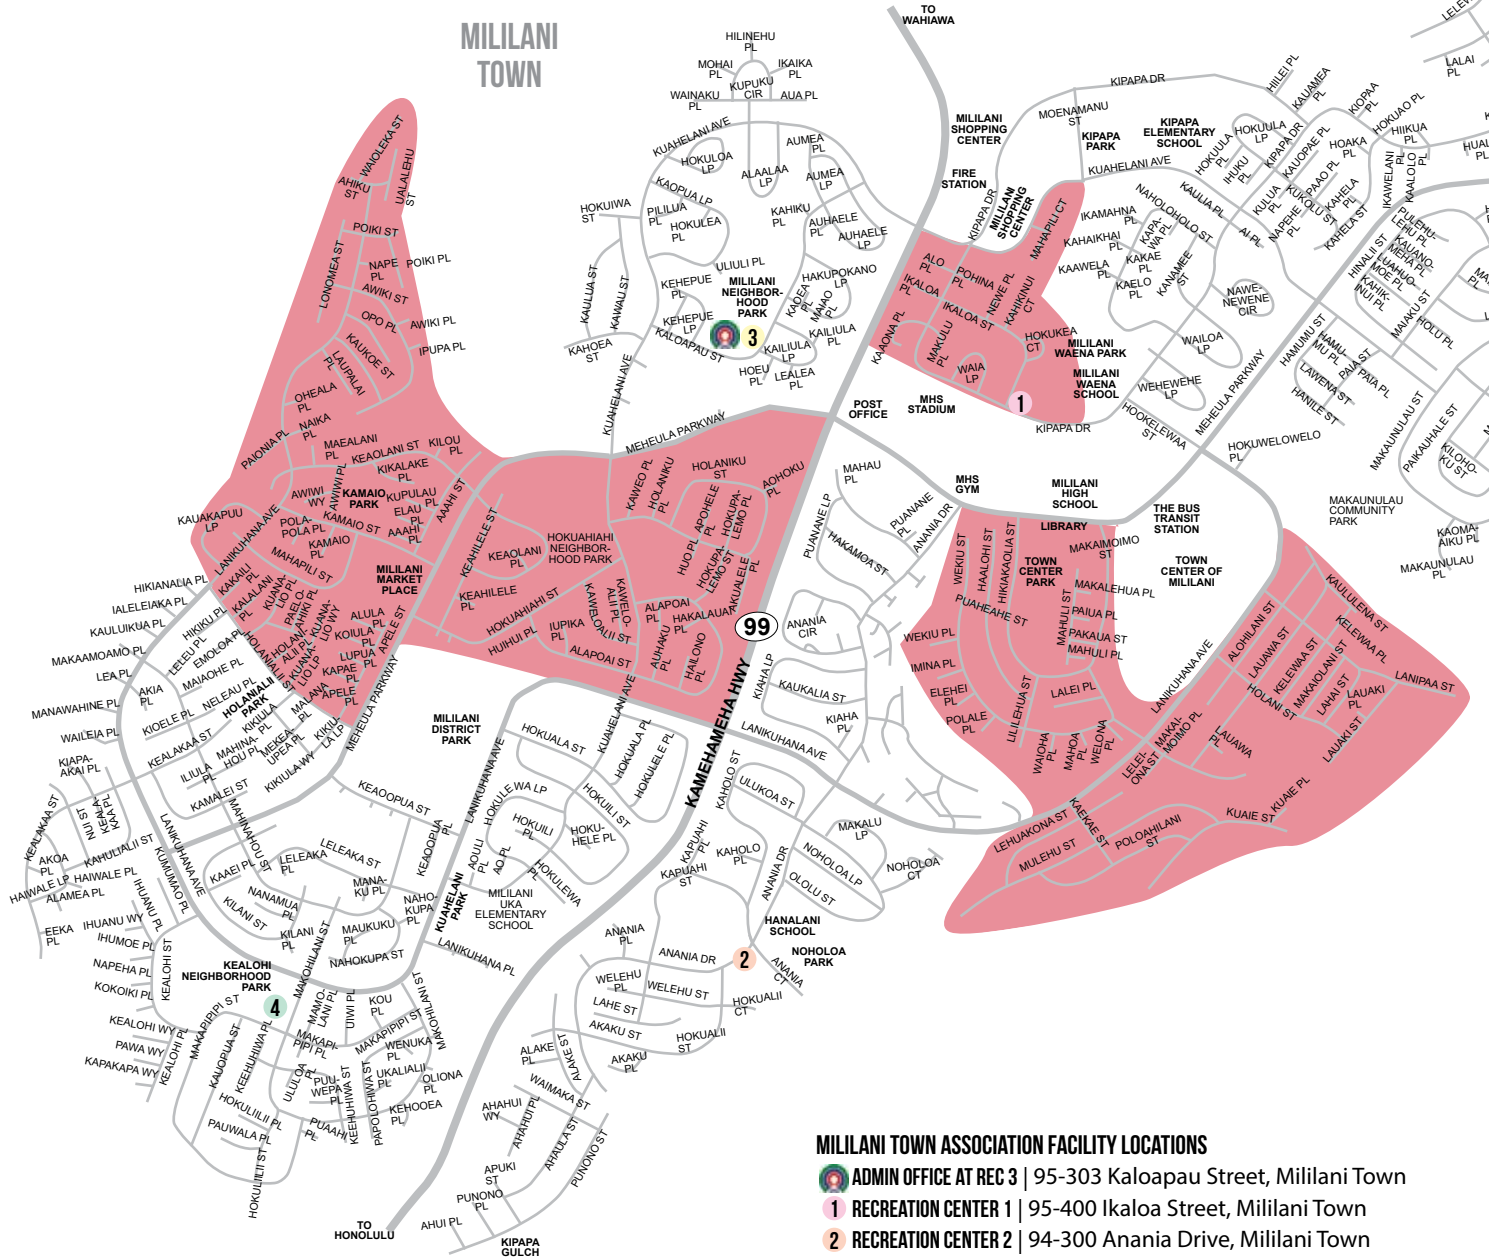

In an effort to be proactive with our homeowners, MTA wants to inform everyone of the areas that are being inspected each month. The areas highlighted on this map are the areas scheduled for routine Covenant inspections for this month.

We hope to reduce the amount of violation letters we have to send out, by giving you an advance notice of where we will be. We are not trying to do our inspections in secret. We may be seen in an area that is NOT scheduled for a routine inspection. The reason is usually because we have a re-inspection, a complaint or a design project inspection in that area. Please remember, if you have any questions, please feel free to ask. We are very friendly and very willing to talk to you.

INSPECTION SCHEDULE (Subject to change):

Performance Plumbing

Fall Plumbing Tips

License #C-32480

1. Clean and Inspect Gutters and Drains

With Hawaii's rainy fall season, keep your gutters and outdoor drains clear to avoid water backups. Leaves and debris can quickly clog gutters, leading to standing water near your foundation or roof. Regularly clean and inspect these areas to ensure proper drainage.

2. Water Heater Check-Up

Aging water heaters can be a concern. Check the age of your water heater by verifying the manufacturer's label on the unit. This helps you stay proactive in preventing leaks and ensuring hot water all year-round.

3. Flush Your Water Heater

After the hot summer, your water heater could have sediment buildup from months of heavy use. Flushing your water heater may help improve its efficiency and potentially extend its lifespan. This simple maintenance step helps your water heater run smoothly as more warm showers may become more frequent.
